DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 6, 15, 26-36, 40, 42-47, 58, 67-76 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Silva (U.S. Pat. # 5,954,065).

With regard to claims 6, 15, 26-36, 40, 42-47, 58, 67-76, Silva discloses a hair sewing fastener (figs. 1-8) comprising the claimed invention including a first needle member (1), a second needle member (12), a resilient band (22) configured to be coupled to the first and second needle members, a fastener member (at 10) located on the first needle member, wherein the fastener member is configured to couple the resilient band to the first needle member at a fixed location on the first needle member and wherein the fastener member being further configured to allow the resilient band to be coupled from the first needle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-14, 16-25, 37-39, 41, 48-57, 59-66 and 77-107 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Silva in view of McKenzie (U.S. Pat. # 5,224,501).

With regard to claims 7-14, 16-25, 37-39, 41, 48-57, 59-66 and 77-107, Silva discloses a hair sewing fastener comprising all the claimed limitations except for the fastener member having a hinged latch, an eye with a notch on the first needle, a dimple on the first needle, a ridge on the first needle or a spring latch. McKenzie discloses a tooth-flossing tool (figs. 1-10) comprising two elongated members (10), a band (12) connected to the two elongated members, a fastener member having an eye (16, fig. 1) on one of the elongated member. It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the fastener means as taught by McKenzie into the device of Silva as an alternative way of fastening the band to the two elongated members. It would also have been an obvious matter of design choice to construct the fastener member having a hinged latch, an eye with a notch on the first needle, a dimple on the first needle, a ridge on the first needle or a spring latch, such modifications would involved a mere design choice of an ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-5 are allowable over prior art of record.
